A FUNERAL IN THE BATHROOM

Poems by Kalli Dakos
Illustrations by Mark Beech

With several offerings built around the idea that "There should be a place/kids can go/when life has dealt/another blow," Dakos's humorous bittersweet poems and Beech's mischievous illustrations center on the bathroom as a place of refuge, camaraderie and, of course, necessity.

GERMS

It was about germs . . . that TV Show.
The bathroom has a zillion, you know.
They jump on your hands . . . and they grow!

Now I always flush . . .
With my toe!

A heartfelt collection of relatable moments.

DETENTION

I'd rather go down the sewer
Than hear,
"DETENTION Today."

So I'm heading
to the bathroom,
To flush myself away.
